On 7 Questions

FOR A NEW ERA ON PLANET EARTH

by Mirko Palomba (*)

Abstract

THIS Illuminates Of Kemet (IOK) Special Public Monograph is a response to seven Sacrosanctae Ordo Svmmvm Bonvm (OS+B) queries for Novus Ordo Seclorum posted on the Web on 6245 AFK (2005 CE) by the IOK Supreme Grand Master, Prophet Jehosu: <http://ordoilluminatorum.net/sevenquest.htm>

1 - Do you think it is possible to establish a universal government on Earth? Not a theoretical entity, but a real and efficient administration capable of legislate and decide in the world level free of pressure from financial groups? In your opinion how this could be done through the next 100 years?

I THINK it is possible. Now we are in the hands of bankers, arms dealers and pharmaceutical companies. All of these are driven by only one power: the money. Our life is estimated around 500$,1000$ or 10.000$ a month. For this amount we have to work as slaves for the entire life. In this manner we can't find the happiness, we have to run and run fastly to run after more money.

American Indians told: don't take from the Earth more than what you need. I think we are plagiarized by publicity on TV, Internet, papers etc. We think that for having happiness we have to buy a big number of objects or we have to live in a big house or in a particular mode. These are lies! The happiness is in the simplicity. We should have to rediscover the sunrise everyday, the dew on the grass, the consciousness of the collectivity needs.

The bourse is liar! It works with fictitious money. It is an illusion medium and is based on, once again, money.

Now we have these big instruments like TV or Internet. We can use them to form a New World Civilization. I know this is hampered by who holds the power but I think this should be done. Now we are used to indecent acts. We see everyday wars, death and money in TV. We have to spread the indignation for all kind of injustices. We can't be used to the indecency.

We must eliminate the money. This is a system of slavery! What does we need to live good? We need an hot place to sleep, a place to eat and we need something to eat based on a correct diet. Our actual houses are used to store a big number of unnecessary objects. Now we think these objects are necessary because we are plagiarized by publicity. Now we have to work for the entire life to buy an house. This is terrible. This means that because we were born we have to pay to someone! Why have I to pay for my life? I can't answer to this question. Who have I to pay?

Why does we need even more money? Because we want a house bigger and bigger, we want a car even more expensive, we want to do even more activity like holidays, gym, hobbies etc. We try to find the happiness in the place proposed by the publicity, that is a place outside of us but the happiness comes knowing ourselves. We need to rediscover a healthy spirituality abandoning the unnecessary.

A society without money is possible. If we educate children to respect the needs of the community before their, we could have free time to spend to find happiness. We can work for the community for some hours a day. This number of hours haven't to be fixed, it depends on the necessary. I hope 4, 5 or 6 hours a day are sufficient to bring up the society. The rest of the day can be used for personal activity or passion, like spirituality and family.

Young people have to learn what they are inclined to study. At the end of the study, people have to work until they can and want. The old people can share the big experience accumulated in their life. If all of society is brought to the ideals of altruism, this is possible. To do so, we have to eliminate the fear for the next. The single should have to become a community. We must trust the next. All the wrong information about the New World Order, the wars, bad aliens, dark power, are used to supply fear. This separates people. I think the competition is useful in a world based on money but it is dangerous for a good relationship by brothers and sisters of the same planet.

People have to do only the jobs that are needed. These jobs should be: build place to sleep or live in community, sewerage system, cultivation of land, system for public health, system for education. Everyone could give his contribution and this stimulus have to bring up by the inside of everyone, thanks to the right education.

2 - Included in the principal ghosts terrorizing the human race are the nuclear disasters, the demographic explosion, the exhaustion of sources of energy, the lack of sufficient food, ecological pollution, destruction of natural habitats, green house effect, social injustice, the loss of fundamental principals of morals and ethics of the population. How do you think those problems can be solved in a practical manner?

I THINK the fear can be used to manipulate people. \"Divide et impera\" has ever been used, so these ghosts maybe have been imposed from above. We have to fight this fear to form a compact consciousness, to create a united community. A time was used the hearsay, now the media plays a crucial role to the manipulation. We must reinvent the use of television and Internet to spread Peace, Love, Light, Brotherhood, Altruism and so on, eliminating the useless publicity. TV shouldn't be used to sell nothing, neither to promote anything inherent to the money.

To discuss each point in detail:

- nuclear disaster: maybe a new world order could avert that disaster because a world under the same flag shouldn't be dangerous. We have to consider that a new world order must be in right white hands, otherwise are problems for all. In extreme analysis, we could sign an act in which all the nations of the world undertake to attack in some manner the first nation who uses atomic offensive. Maybe an hard line could be efficient. - demographic explosion: I firmly believe that the demographic explosion in civilized zones is due to the vertical expansion of the cities. If we have no place to live, children do not. Skyscrapers are only a big medium to do money for someone. We have to rediscover the horizontal expansion. A horizontal city is safer in terms of earthquakes. We have to work near home, so that we haven't use necessarily cars. I think to old cities like Rome or Pompei, there people could reach one point of the city only by foot without problems. Instead, now we must use cars. - exhaustion of sources of energy: as described above, now we are slaves of petroleum because we are obligated to use cars to go to work. I think nuclear solution are not good because nuclear sources are limited and are exhausting. We may use solar and wind power or salt and sweet water using osmosis processes. Maybe the cold fusion could helps us. We have to bet all in research of alternative sources of energy. - lack of sufficient food: I have seen a study in which is told that the 90% of cultivation is used to feed slaughterhouse meat. If we eliminate the use of meat or if we reduce to 1 or 2 times a week the consumption, we can reduce the need of cultivation for animals and can use it for the population. I don't know if the 90% is correct but I think a big number is real. We have to direct us to vegetable food. Once again, we may use TV to send this message. We have to do this for save other life. Use the truth, because the truth is right. Also we need an efficient net of distribution of food in excess, so that we can distribute food where are not found. - ecological pollution: with a small number of cars, even if electric, and a small use of petroleum, the problem should be reduced drastically. Also we are slaves of plastic material. We should use more natural material, like earthenware or (in a small quantity) glass. Our houses haven't to be temples for the Ego. Reducing the use of unnecessary objects, we need less factories so the pollution could be reduced too. If we orient us to a life in wich we work to satisfy the necessity of the society and not for the necessity of the Ego, we don't need a lot of factories. These are useful only to a little elite of people that has the power. Factories are good only to move money in the society. Once again, the problem are money. - destruction of natural habitats:

we are too much and live in disharmony with nature. We destroy all we have around us to build buildings bigger and bigger. Big buildings are a big movement of money. This is the interest of a little number of people. We have to build something for living in harmony with nature. I think to little volumes to sleep and spend intimacy moments with the family or with who we want. We haven't to cut trees, we have to build volumes within trees, if necessary, or in open spaces. We have to think to some efficient main topics, like: sewerage system, drinking water, electricity distribution, heat distribution. We have to preserve as much as possible nature. We have a lot of devices, machines or consumer goods that need too much power supply. We have to point to efficient objects, we must reduce the needs of power supply. - greenhouse effect: reducing the consumption of useless objects, like they can be a lot of sprays, reducing the use of cars, reducing the use of factories, we reduce certainly the greenhouse effect. - social injustice: we have a lot of rights but we haven't duties. We have to bring up a new world civilization in which duties are the normal going of the life. In this manner, we can reduce the number of rules. If we destroy the actual system of the factories, the banks, arms dealers and pharmaceutical companies, we can distribute wealth better. Pharmaceutical companies haven't to be private! They must be public! If a pharmaceutical company is private has the interest if we are sick, so we will have always strange diseases like H1N1 or other. I think that those diseases were sent by pharmaceutical companies to make rich a little number of people. All have to be public and piloted with democracy. - loss of fundamental principals of morals and ethics of the population: we may use media to form the new world civilization mentioned above. Now we are drugged by TVs. We see only violence, wars, destruction, hate, distrust. We have to build the opposite situation. We have to stimulate the soul of each one of us and let shine the light we have in the heart. We must trust of the next and work together to build a world where ethics and morals are fundamental. We may use TVs, media in general and the school system to form a new kind of children. Even the school system is essential. I think it should be inserted a new school matter about the relationship with the others and the civil living.

3 - Through the eras cyclic problems has been solved with recycling of values with destruction and reconstruction of constitutive orders. Through wars, as agents of dynamization for such changes. As Rosicrucian do you know any other and better form of action practical and efficient, besides war, to modify the conditions of Humanity as a society for the better and indefinite time?

I THINK it is possible. What does war do? War destroys the certainties, destroys what we have under the feet. It is a shock. There are two big kind of certainties: religious and scientific ones. I think we need to illuminate people of the world with the true religion and the true science. I think actual religions and science have an old approach to the reality. We have to open our knowledge to the others. We could use TVs or Internet but have to talk famous theologians and scientists, in this manner also skeptic people can review own opinion. We have to promote Love and altruism, we have to build together our existences and we have to abandon the individualism.

4 - Which form of leadership would you choose to govern this new human society? In the third millennium?

I THINK to a society governed by people spiritually elevated. Who follows an initiatory path can demonstrate his spiritual elevation, so the other people can estimate if he is worthy to govern or not. We need philosophers, scientists, theologians to work together. A politician should be called to govern and should think to the welfare of the people and not to its. We need a thick net to control corruption. The truth can't be hampered. We have to say always the truth. I think to a society where the maximum punishment is the low opinion of the others. We have to get angry in front of the injustices, but this have to be built in some way, perhaps using the TVs. If a politician is wrong for corruption we have to punish him using a low opinion for him. No need punish based on money. A system based on money can be useful only to let rotate money in the system. We will have always injustices if they will let rotate money in the pockets of someone. The concept of "nation" should be used for an initial phase but at regime it should be deleted. We are One, so we don't need nations.

5 - What kind of cold, values and guideline of collective principles would you suggest in order to elaborate a World Constitution, considering all ethnic differences and problems under a global vision?

WE ARE all free and we have to let the others to be free as they prefer. We are all a different kind of the emanation of God, so there isn't a right person or a wrong one. We have to discuss now about democracy. Democracy as is today is wrong. There isn't democracy without cultured population. Nowadays we haven't democracy because people doesn't know anything about the true problems for managing a nation or something else. This will never be possible. Nowadays the election system is corrupt. There isn't a medium in which candidates can explain their plans equally. People are captured by the figure of the leader and not by his plans. This is tremendous. I believe in a pyramidal structure. At the bottom we have the electors, then we have a certain number of initiated (the candidates), then a small number of Masters, persons highly elevated spiritually. This system has to be clear to the electors, without shadows. So I think to a society in wich people can decide in democracy which initiated can manage the politics, this politicians are helped by the Masters for following the divine project and to satisfy population, as much as possible. People have to trust in the Masters because they are connected to the Source. Naturally all have to rotate, I think every 10 years at maximum Masters and politicians have to change. I think the Human Rights are good, we have only to let know them in places like Iran, China, Taiwan and other places. We have to destroy censorship.

6 - As for instruction and education of children, how would you design a didactic model? Also for the young/teenagers in order to create a just society capable to offer conditions of mental peace and prosperity enough to inspire the desire to rise at the conscious level of all mankind?

FIRST I think good examples could give good results. Then, I believe in the civic education. We have to point on the respect of the other, of the diversity, of the freedom of the others. Civic education gives us respect for the lives of others. From an early age should aim for this, then gradually add the letters and sciences, these (letters and sciences) become more complicated growing and have to be introduced step by step. I think the school needs a good approach to spirituality. Now we have a prevalent religion taught. This is wrong. We have to conduct children to the own spirituality, not to one in particular. Children have to comprehend that we are One. The good for the others is the good for us. I think to a model based on this structure:

0 - 3 years: comprehension of Love, Life and respect of the others. Children have not own toys but toys of the community. What is mine is yours. We are all equal, we are all a breath of God. 3 - 5 years: we could continue the previous teachings and we could introduce to write and read letters of alphabet, the own name and surnames and similar things. In this age, we could introduce some fairy tales and myths which explain moral values. It is important the collaboration between children. 6 years: we could point to read and write better, continuing the previous teachings and introducing basic mathematics. 7 - 10: a child should be able to read and write correctly. Every child should have understood civic education and how to live in harmony with the next. At this age, I think it is sufficient. We haven't to stress too much children, they have to play and joke, to express the own sensations, so they should read and write and should be able to live in harmony with the others. At maximum they should be able to compute some calculation. 11 - 13 years: we could introduce history, literature, slightly more complex mathematical, science and basic philosophy. All should point to the harmony with the Earth. Every child have to feel for what is brought and have to be able to choose in whic matter dedicate himself. 14 - 15 years: children should study Physics, Chemistry, Astronomy, Philosophy, Mathematics and letters. At this point they could choose an address of study between: letters, sciences, technics and arts. 16 - 18 years: deep study about the address chosen, then children are ready to the world of University. All of this must be public and free! No private school because all have to be deserve to study at the same manner. I think to a model in which the entire teachings are conducted for half time (or for 1/3) in a common worldwide language, like english, esperanto or other, since the 0 -3 years zone. The choice of the address haven't to be rigid and unchangeable. Children have to feel hope and possibility to change own choices of life. The job is secondary compared to the personal realization. Education should not be balanced by monetary compensation.

7 - How would you conduct the elaboration or a simple and practical at the same time deep and proficient set of guide lines (rules) to emphasize a canalization of the mystical powers of the people, which actually are focused as religiosity?

SCIENCE and faith must merge. The dry and wet should lead to equilibrium. Opposites must unite. If we reunite science and faith, I think we are on the horse. We can use TVs and media to let understand the true science and the true faith. We need this. Our scientists and theologists have to work together to show the Power of the true God. If we touch the heart of wet and dry people, we could reach the heart of the entire world. Scientists should be more oriented to God and theologians should be more oriented to science. I think to a science in which God is the protagonist and I think to a theology in which there aren't dogmas. Through TVs and media we could promote Love, Fraternity, Peace. We have to understand that money are not useful to happiness. Give an hand to the next is better than to obtain 100$ more on salary. Progressively we should eliminate the money system. We have too much workers because they have to bring at home money. If they haven't this necessity (of money) we don't need factories, so we don't pollute the Earth. We need to build places to sleep, to live, to teach and we need natural food, made by the Mother Earth. The animal market has to be reduced as low as possible, so the vegetable products are more dedicated to supply the human necessity. We have to propose a vegetarian diet to live in harmony with the Earth. We have to reduce the useless objects that fill our houses. We have to reduce the needs of plastic material and petroleum. All of this must be understood by the entire human race using the correct means. We hate to comprehend that we are One, there isn't vacuum between us, all is in connection. The bad to the others is bad for us. The bad for planet Earth is bad for us. We need to destroy the "divide et impera" system, because it is the bigger system used to build individualism. For living together we don't need individualism. We could use promotional campaigns to sensibilize the population.

Peace Profound to you All,
