

The Svmmvm Bonvm Organization

<http://svmmvmbonvm.org/>

Public Monograph

A METAPHYSICAL STUDY ON HSL

Master Alden

THE REORGANIZER OF KING AKHENATEN'S ILLUMINATES

By Rev. Illuminatus Frater Velado, 7Ph.D.

Lay Brother, The Rosicrucian Order

Dirigent of Ordo Illuminati Ægyptorum

(Illuminates of Kemet)

<http://ordoilluminatorum.net/>

“Life is Eternal. Creatures are transitory.”

Master Apis of Khem

(Hierophant of SVMMVM Organisation)

Dr. Spencer Lewis young, using a ritualistic pectoral where you can see the Ankh of Maat, at center, the Sacred Seal of the Emperor, at left bottom and AMORC'S symbol at right; above at right you can see the ancient Rosicrucian symbol used by primitive Masonry.

ABSTRACT

DR. HARVEY SPENCER LEWIS (Master Alden), reorganizer of the Akhenaten's Mysteries School (Illuminates of Kemet) with a name of The Ancient and Mystical Ordo Rosae Crucis (AMORC), actually called Antiquus Mysticusque Ordo Rosae Crucis, was the introducer of Maat into the modern Rosicrucianism. using her logosymbol as a salutation for his Order: Cromaat. As a member for Life of AMORC through the Grand Lodge for Portuguese Language, I wrote this Public Monograph in honour to Master Alden, my rudder for metaphysical navigations on this planet. Rosicrucian pamphlets from AMORC emphasizes that the complete name of the organization (Ancient and Mystical Order Rosae Crucis) in reverse order configures the word CROMAAT. It is a mystical Rosicrucian salutation using the name of the goddess of Justice and Truth. Note: Maat, or Ma'at, or Maet, in reality is an abstraction of Divine Ethics projected to the Earth to rule human actions and difused through all universes to simbolize the right path for all manifestations of animated forms, living creatures. In this Public Monograph I will to analise the introduction of Maat in Modern Rosicrucianism by HSL and I will to examine the controversial question on who is Amorcus.

SUMMARY

Introduction – Page 5

1 - Biographical Sketch of HSL – Page 6

2 - The Mystical Workmanship of the Master – Page 12

3 - A Brief on Rosicrucianism – Page 18

4 - Introducing Maat Into Rosicrucianism – Page 27

5 - Amorcus Master Unveiled – Page 39

Conclusion – Page 44

INTRODUCTION

To define the importance of Dr. Harvey Spencer Lewis not only in the modern Rosacrucianism, but as one of the most important figures of the universal mysticism, leaving Century 20 for the Third Millennium as an authentic lighthouse of the New Age, is necessary to speak of his principal mystical and alchemic workmanship: the creation and the elaboration of a plan of gradual studies destined to transform the common man in a better creature, spiritually superior, a Master of the Life

SPENCER LEWIS (Master Alden, a.k.a. Frater Profundis XIII), author of dozens of mystical books, essays and articles, wrote personally all Monographs for Temple Degrees and idealized the Planes (Superior Studies, reserved to the Members of the Sacred Esoteric Hierarchy) of A.M.O.R.C., harmonized with the Masters of the Invisible Rosicrucian Order. He goes to the Absolute at August 2 (Wednesday), 1939, in San Jose, CA. His cinder was entombed under a Memorial Triangle in the Rosicrucian Park. As an Ascended Master of the Great White Brotherhood Lodge (G.'W'.B'.L.') founded in Tibet by our Venerable Founder, Kar-Gya-Pa, Sar Alden is one of the 12 Masters of Ordo Svmvm Bonvm: Master S-A. To access the Sacred Page of our Masters click here: MASTERS' GALLERY.

Doctor Harvey Spencer Lewis, mystic and alchemist, painter and philosopher, was born at November 25, 1883, in Frenchtown, New Jersey, USA, son of teachers. Member of Ordo Templi Orientis (OTO) he studied the secrets of Thoth. Reorganizer of the Ancient Rosicrucian Order, Spencer Lewis received from the Cosmic the Symbolic Link with the Hermetic Order of Egypt in order to preserve the esoteric themes of Akhenaten's School (The Illuminateds, a secret congregation of 39 members). And received also the necessary vibratory energy materialized as money to construct physical Lodges for A.M.O.R.C., that represent in this plane, Earth, the Glory of Ra as a God's Image for Adepts.

1 - Biographical Sketch of HSL

DR. HARVEY SPENCER LEWIS, alchemist, philosopher, scientist, painter, author of dozens of best-sellers on metaphysics, was the First Imperator of A.M.O.R.C. for North and South Americas; Founder of Rosicrucian activities in the Western Hemisphere for this cycle; Member of the Supreme Rosicrucian Council of the World; Legacy of the Order, in France, Minister of the Foreign Legation; Consecrated Priest of the Essene Ashrama of India; Honorary Counselor member of "Corda-Fratres" of Italy; Sri Sobhita of the Great White Brotherhood Lodge of the Tibet; Rex, Universitatis Illuminatus; Member of the University of Andhara, India. Director of the Rose-Croix University.

Harvey Spencer Lewis was born in Frenchtown, New Jersey, in November 25th, 1883, to 12h38m (correct astrological hour), son of Aaron Lewis (gaulès ascendance) and Catherine Hoffman (German), both dedicated teachers. His parents dedicated themselves, at the time, to educational work and, thus, received it good instruction, being later taken for New York with its two brothers. From gaulès origin, descending of the family Lewis whose the great ancestor was Sir Robert Lewis and whose other descendants included Merry-weather Lewis, of the famous expedition Lewis and Clark, and many others, prominent in primitive American history. The father of Spencer Lewis was a caligraphic expert with rare talent and realized several important tasks in this area for the Department of Justice in US, solving with his ability complicated and obscures judicial problems in dependence of documents that the autenticity was questioned.

Educated in schools of of New York city, Spencer Lewis was joined the Methodist Church and was one of the first members of the known good "Metropolitan" Temple of which the Dr. Parkes Cadman was the first clergyman and wonderful promoter of great well. Demonstrating rare mystical perception and fine and accurated talent to maintain communications with planes normally invisible for commom people, Harvey Spencer Lewis experienced some very special initiations directly with Cosmic Masters, one of them identified as Amorcus - the Master that transmits secret awareness from the Ancient Egypt If you are interest in know my artistic interpretation of this initiation, simply click here. This Master have not face or human form and was appear involved by an elyptic nimbus (a kind of cloud) of mystical light. That is a very particular experience reserved only for authentic mystics: bureaucrats that uses esotericism as a hobby simply cannot perceive or comprehend this subjective fact. Note that I'm not writing this biography in orthodox basis; I'm not writing another piece of bureaucratic (presumed historical) relat; I'm writing for people sincere, interested in know the true about one of most important personage of modern mysticism. The mystical workmanship of Dr. Harvey Spencer Lewis is actually disseminated for all the world, through no only books, essays or AMORC lodges: the principal pile is hundreds and hundreds of men and women that obtained the Mastery of Life through his teachings - including scientific and metaphysical experiments - contained in the monographs of his system destined to form Rosicrucian minds working on this plane for a better world for all creatures.

Dedicated to scientific studies Spencer Lewis also entered the world of the art, as profession, and in many parts of America, currently, it has paintings (oil on canvas), crayon and watercolor, as well as hundreds of drawings of his fruitful plume. Many of these had become national known. Before 21 years old Spencer Lewis assumed commands it of the artistic activities special of the "New York Herald". One of the most famous paintings created by Spencer Lewis is the oil on canvas titled "Jesus Christ", where de artist emphasized the mystical Aura of the Lord. Spencer Lewis saw Jesus as two separate persons: the man and the Cosmic Christ. He wrote a best-seller, the book "The Mystical Life of Jesus", where the official story, presented by Christian religion, is questioned. Jesus really died on the Cross? - ask Spencer Lewis, and himself replies this answer with a absolutely new theory about Jesus. If you are interested you can seek for this book, currently available from AMORC. I personally don't agree this theory, but I respect it, because involves a very important part of Rosicrucian scheme: the continuous investigation of all phenomena in order to depurate it extracting the only one important product: his mystical essence. If the Lord died or not died on the Cross is not very important; the important is just his Message for the world: Unconditional Love, Unconditional Pardon. I learned this conceptions with...Harvey Spencer Lewis, in consequence of my continuous studies on his monographs, every Thursdays at night since 1977 to 2002. Spencer Lewis emphasized that is necessary extreme tolerance for walk on the mystical path.

In this same occasion was elect President of the Institute of Psychic Research of New York, and almost enters the many efficient collaborators in its work was Ella Wheeler Wilcox and "Fra" Hubbard, founder of the Roycrofters. These two had collaborated, later, in the foundation of the Rosicrucian Order in America and had been part of the first American Council of the Order when the Dr. Lewis was chosen for Supreme Master of America. Dr. Harvey Spencer Lewis assumed the initiatic name Frater Profundis XIII, but his mystical name is Alden and he is known as Sar Alden and Master Alden. Spencer Lewis created and developed since as young the most sophisticated, complete and efficient system of studies for a modern Rosicrucian Master's graduation. Today AMORC follows using this system in order to provide its students with the Mastery of Life, primary goal of superior esoteric/initiatic institutions. Spencer Lewis refurbished the mysticism creating the method for the self-construction of the Inner Master, an ultra-secret theme that cannot be focused here. Spencer Lewis created dozens of scientific/mystical experiments for effective psychich development of men and women for a better world now and here, not for a distant tomorrow. Spencer Lewis was inspired through direct contact with Masters of Great White Brotherhood Lodge (G.'W'.B'.L'.).

After many years of continuous scientific and psychic research, exactly in the field of the telegraphy-without-wire (radio) when this technology was little known, made it its first contact with the work of the Rosicrucians that they had established its headquarters close to Philadelphia, in 1694. Member of the English Division that supported the first movement in America, Mrs. May Banks-Stacey, descendant of Oliver Cromwell and the D'Arcys of France, placed in its hands the documents that it had been officially transmitted for the last one of first American Rosicrucians, with the Jewel and the Sign of Authority for it received from the Great Master of the Order in India during the time where it was Official of the movement in that country. Spencer lewis introduced into modern Rosicrucianism Maat as a metaphysical system for ethics.

During some years correspondence with different representatives of the foreign Jurisdictions was kept, until accurate inquiry could be made to determine the merit of the Dr. Lewis to execute the incumbencies then in its power. Finally in 1909 he was it instructed to appear ahead of definitive high Officers of France. He visited Toulouse, old center of the International Rosicrucian Congress, and came back of that country in ownership of bigger authority. This and the possessed documents for the Soror Stacey had been presented to a Commission of more than one hundred American citizens, being launched the bases for the intentionally reactivation of the work in America, being the Soror Stacey as "Great Mother" and the Dr. Lewis as Supreme Grand Master.

Since that time many honorific headings had been conferred to it by foreign and American societies, scientific academies, institutions and scholastic corporations.

As American citizen he had been cited as example for honorable decoration with the Cross of Honor and for Knight of the Flag for the Association of the Flag of the United States. In the Europe Dr. Spencer Lewis received some similar decorations, also the Gold Cross of the Templars Knights of Jerusalem. He was Official Member or of some European and American educational societies, and had been admitted to the raised Degrees more of 14, or more, of the most detached esoteric societies, mystical and philosophical of the world, also the "Rose-Croix Kabalistique de France", "Martinist Order of France, Belgium and Switzerland", "Society Alchemic Rose-Croix", of France, "Samaritans Incognitos", of the Europe, "Brahman Fraternity", "Egyptian Rites of Memphis and Misraim" and others; one of the few initiates was it also to be received in a Arcane Temple from Luxor, Egypt, in 1929. The International Federation of Initiatory Orders (FUODOESI) distinguished Spencer Lewis with high honors in the International Congress realized in 1934 (Belgium). He was the only Rosicrucian Officer in the North America to be so widely authorized to represent the traditional teachings from ancient and esoteric sanctuaries of the world such Light of Ancient Egypt and the Hermetic Order of Egypt, esoteric schools of Akhenaten and Ptah-Hotep.

Spencer Lewis' wife, Martha Morphier Lewis, descendant of the famous general French Morphier, were the first lady in America to cross the Threshold of the Order in the new regimen, and shes four children had been instructed in the work; his son, Ralph M. Lewis, has served as Supreme Secretary of the Order for Americas of the North and the South during many years and assumed as the Second Imperator when his father goes to the Cosmic Plane, ascended to the Great White Brotherhood Lodge with the name Aum-Rah. One the most magnificent creations of Dr. Spencer Lewis is the Cathedral of Soul, also called Celestial Sanctum, an ethereal cathedral located in the Cosmic Plane, reserved to all AMORC members, neophytes and high initiated of the Inner Circle (Planes, after the 12th Degree of Temple). The Celestial Sanctum (Cathedral of Soul) is an ethereal Temple in the Cosmic Plane where all Rosicrucians Members of AMORC can be congregated with visible and invisible Masters of the Inner Circle of the True and Eternal Rosicrucian Order. Celestial Sanctum is a mental creation of Dr. Harvey Spencer Lewis described in "Liber 777", a publication for AMORC Members, also available for non members that request it. The Celestial Sanctum, based on the 777 Mystical Principle (*) is a cosmic meeting place for advanced and spiritually developed members of the Rosicrucian Order. It is the focal point of cosmic radiations of health, peace, happiness, and inner awakening. During every day, periods for special attunements are designated when cosmic benefits of a specific nature may be received. Non members as well as Rosicrucian students may participate in the Celestial Sanctum Contacts. Liber 777, a booklet describing the Celestial Sanctum and its several periods, will be sent to non members requesting it. Address Scribe S. P. C., Rosicrucian Park, San Jose, California 95114, stating that you are not a member of the Order and enclosing ten cents to cover mailing. Into this Sacred Place all Rosicrucian Experiments tried by AMORC Members will be successfully and the power of Darkness cannot prejudice it. Several sick people was healed since the 19 Century through today with Rosicrucian experiments realized by Members of Planes (Superior Degrees of AMORC - Old- fashioned System) and now the Sacred Esoteric Hierarchy of AMORC follow using the Celestial Sanctum for healing the sick and making Peace Profound projections on Planet Earth.

During his productive life on this Plane, Earth, Dr. Harvey Spencer Lewis suffered several attacks to his mystical authority from some envious people, something without much cultural merit or real esoteric value, all of them moved by grudge. These obtuse people with very little mind wrote some injuries in English language and Spencer Lewis pardoned all calumniators, but maintained some discussions, in high level, with other opponent, more qualified. Note that all Masters manifest on this Plane with a mission to be accomplished experienced similar attacks. Remember Jesus Christ, injured with extreme sarcasm, tortured and crucified. After his transition for the Cosmic Plane some disqualified people follows in attacks to his memory, because tried foundation of esoteric organizations, copying AMORC and simply have not success. I studied during 25 years on the mystical system developed personally by Dr. Harvey Spencer Lewis - 12 Degrees and Planes - as member of AMORC through affiliation with the Portuguese Language

Grand Lodge, under the Grand Masters Maria A. Moura and Charles Vega Parucker. After the administrative modifications performed on 1990 I continued receiving the exact material developed by Dr. Spencer Lewis and my studies are not affected. That demonstrates - and I personally ateste - that the mystical workmanship of Dr. Harvey Spencer Lewis is permanent and cannot be damaged by anyone. That is the workmanship of an authentic mystic. Who can judge or evaluate Spencer Lewis life and authority? Only Masters of Cosmic Plane, not simple inexpressive esoteric bureaucrats looking for appears in the modern mystical scenario. Image at left shows Dr. Spencer Lewis working in his office.

Dr. Lewis passed for the transition for the Great Initiation, in San Jose, California, to the 15:15 hs., hour of the Pacific, in the Wednesday, August 2th, 1939. Hundreds of people had appeared to the burial and some thousands of letters, telegrams and cablegrams had been received from all the civilized countries of the world revealing to weigh for the loss of its physical presence and personality, rejoicing themselves however with its final accomplishment. Of conformity with express desire in its Last Will and Disposals, his cinders had been entombed in the Rosicrucian Park under a symbolic triangle, in the magnificent Egyptian Chapel, reproduction of a temple of Egypt in which had been carried through an initiation. Now it is visited annually by great number of AMORC Members, diversified mystical people, friends and admirers.

2 - The Mystical Workmanship of the Master

TO DEFINE the importance of Dr. Harvey Spencer Lewis not only in the modern Rosacrucianism, but as one of the most important figures of the universal mysticism, leaving Century 20 for the Third Millennium as an authentic lighthouse of the New Age, is necessary to speak of his principal mystical and alchemic workmanship: the creation and the elaboration of a plan of gradual studies destined to transform the common man in a better creature, spiritually superior, a Master of the Life. The Rosicrucianism will better have preponderant action in the transformation of the current human society in something better (under the point of view of the Ethics) as part of the natural evolution, a process in continuous course in the Universe. When it is said here in Universe not only understands the set of everything that is visible to the eye of the man, but yes the set of all the Plans of the Creation, visible and invisible, perceivable and imperceptible.

The Mystical Palette Veritas Vincit

At this point it is necessary to remember my particular mystical experience with Master Alden. I titled it "The Mystical Palette Veritas Vincit".

I remember that a Thursday at night, just after Christmas, I was alone in my closure, in my sanctum period for study on Planes of the Rosicrucian Order, AMORC, and a profound sadness invaded me. I saw, in the screen of my mind, the beautiful Christmas Tree decorated by my wife with artistic candles, silvered stars and colourful globes. A Tree that today exist only in my remembrances. Alone, without Christmas gifts, I cried. Just when I was crying a strange violet light invaded my cell and I was transported in a fraction of seconds to another Plane, where I saw Dr. Spencer Lewis with a palette in his right hand.

- It is necessary, extremely necessary, that Veritas Vincit. Get this palette and do it, not for me, but for Maat -he said...and disappears!!

I baptized this mystical palette as "Veritas Vincit" and using it I created the Frater Velado's Art Gallery, where I'm exposing some paintings about Rosicrucianism and on human drama.

This was, for me, my most important experience with Dr. Harvey Spencer Lewis.

The Path to The Inner Circle

When people talk about the Rosicrucian Order - and in these modern times, with the advent of the Internet, it is accessible to all by a simple query on any search engine - the first image that comes to the mind of the public is of a secret - or in minimum reserved and private - society, involved with magick, that realizes rituals and manipulates supernatural things. In the truth, the Rosicrucian Order is a private, closed society in an Inner Circle absolutely protected against invaders, to which the profane ones by no means has access, coated for an accessible External Circle to all. This External Circle functions as a species of filter and inside of it initiations are conferred and the Rosicrucian principles are placed in practical in the social conviviality between fratres (mystical brothers) and sorores (mystical sisters) in units that congregate them. Thus, in the Rosicrucian Order, AMORC, the Pronaoi, the Chapters (bigger) and the Lodge exist (bigger still), where this experience is tried. I mention AMORC here in my condition of his Member for Life, affiliated to the Grand Lodge of the Jurisdiction of the Portuguese Language.

However, to be Rosicrucian does not only mean to belong to this or that Rosicrucian Order - several exist -, and it is not enough to have read this or that book on the subject, or same to have academically studied such or which monographs or any another type of pamphlet. In the truth, being Rosicrucian is to have a line of Rosicrucian thought (investigative and alchemist). The system of education of the AMORC, originally conceived for the Imperator Dr. Harvey Spencer, aims at accurately to this: to form Rosicrucian minds able to mold new ages. Originally this system was a series of 12 Degrees of Temple, preceded for 3 Degrees of Atrium, for probation and acclimatization of the neophytes admitted to the studies of the Order. All Rosicrucian studies are secret and a correct member never can shows monographs, photos, schemes or another item to profanes or not graduated members. The two final Degrees were most extensive, with 167 monographs in the Eleventh and 325 monographs in Twelfth. When reaching monograph 32 of the Twelfth Degree the student entered the Esoteric Hierarchy and there, then, its preparation started, again as neophyte, for the access to the Inner Circle, through the study now already not in Degrees, but in 7 Planes. In the center of everything this is the Sacred True, Invisible and Eternal Rose+Cross, protected for one another Order, with another name. All this process of ascension was conceived by Master Alden (Spencer Lewis) to complete itself in about 25 years (1), if the student did not fail one alone day of prescribed study. It determined that these studies were carried through weekly, in the Thursday at night, preferential for return of 19h, by mystical reasons that are of the knowledge of the members of the Inner Circle.

The Rosicrucian study, as he was explicit explained by the Imperator Dr. Harvey Spencer Lewis, of happy memory, is not an academic study, something that can be assimilated by the reading mechanics associated with the logical reasoning, as a technological substance. This kind of study is a mystical adventure reserved only for sincere seekers, a highly subjective study, illuminated by the Invisible Masters. The student must create himself his Inner Master and project it into the Inner Circle of the True Rosicrucian Order, inside the Great White Brotherhood Lodge (G'.W'.B'.L.'), where the Real Founder of this School of Illumination can be encountered: the mind of Akhenaten. To undertake it of the form established in the memorandum of understanding, unprepared, would be as if somebody intended to read the "Ulysses" of Joyce in another language that not that peculiar Irishman of Dublin, or either: without understanding the Irishman of Dublin it would be simply impossible to catch the literary sensations that Joyce placed there; or still, pure and simply to read of academic form monographs of the Order it would be as to look at for a picture of Paul Cézanne without being prepared for this (for an artistic-pictorial minimum of background). Cézanne innovated the painting of one such form that it introduced in the a "pictorial sensation": to if appreciating a screen its can not only be seen the workmanship pictorial but also "to feel it". Summarizing: when a prepared person looks at for a picture of Cézanne can accurately feel the same sensation that Cézanne was feeling when painting that workmanship. Spencer Lewis introduced this type of thing in his system of mystical studies and recommended to all students do it in his reserved personal Rosicrucian sanctuary (Sanctum). Or either: subjectively, you when studying a monograph will be able to feel what the author was feeling when wrote it e, consequently, will have access to the same source inspiration. Here it is because Spencer Lewis recommended that the monographs were studied always in the Sanctum, in ritualistic style, and not chores as simple lessons of orthodox Philosophy. You can form a philosopher, not make a mystic, because this has of being auto generated.

Using this form, in the monographs of the Order Rosicrucian AMORC the teachings are given doubly: a) of objective and interactive form, including experiments that aim at to the development of certain psychic conditions, which, exactly, goes to allow the opening of that of Aldous Huxley called "the doors of perception" (that is only made here without the use of drugs) and b) of highly subjective form, with a reading before in the space between lines of text the one that in the lines - and is exactly this sophisticated form that characterizes as only the Rosicrucian study, because exactly the deeper study theological, including the dogmas, it is essentially objective, and is necessarily in this particular one that the Order if differentiates viscerally of the religions. The proper one is St. Thomas Aquinas was emphasized logical, and only in St. Benedict we see expositions subjective, of effect to subliminal, in such a way thus that it has numerous commentaries to the Holy Rule; note that Benedict he was not only a man of saint life, that the Church had decided canonize, but its sanctity was not in dependence of this; as much that operated miracles proven and on its words was constituted an Order that have 1740 years more than comes if keeping complete as in the origin; father of monks of the Occident, Blessed always fought - and he was successful - the Evil.

One the Nature of R+C Study

The process destined to the simple formation of a Rosicrucian thinker was the duration in minimum of a fourth of century and never was a mere academic study, that could be taken the handle for common reading of monographs. In the reality, the true teachings were not printed matters in the monographs, but they lay occult in the space between lines and alone they could be perceived through the ritualistic study, in the private Sanctum of each student. The methodical and untiring exercise of the experiments considered, awakening psychic centers until then sleep, enabled Rosicrucian student of the AMORC to harmonize himself with the occult teachings of the Invisible Masters of G'.W'.B'.L.'. These teachings enabled the student to enter the Internal Circle and there it would have:

1 - To think for proper itself as Rosicrucian, adding new knowledge - and new esoteric properties - to the Sacred Rosicrucian Egregore, that are not static, but essentially dynamic, dialectic and in continuous elaboration and refining;

2 - To act as Rosicrucian in the molding of new forms of manifestation of the Being in the Planes Physical, Mental and Abstract, with the opening of new doors of the perception for exclusively Metaphysical ways, resulting in subliming of the Art and Science.

As result of these two conditions - and performances - preliminary the closing of the Law of the Triangle was had:

3 - The student got nothing more nothing less than the Mastery of the Life .

The Mastery of the Life consists, then, as it is seen, in living not under control, but in the control, with definite destination and established intention, and not more as a vessel to the flavor of the winds and the squalls. That one that thus lives is not alone the agent of the Rosicrucian Alchemy in some plans but also its patient, equally in some plans of understanding and having the control of this process. That one that it got the Mastery of the Life can, between some things, to decide if reincarnates as the continuation of a specific line of thought, also defining as it will be its new personality, for the achievement of a goal. As also it can decide to go for the Eternal Life. When one thinks that the almost absolute majority of the Humanity to the end of the terrestrial life will be simply recycled in the crucible of the Absolute Nothing (Nirvana), without that each unit of manifestation of the Being can decide its destination with autonomy, has measured it of the importance of the Rosicrucian Studies developed and organized by Master Alden, now living inside the G'.W'.B'.L.' as Master S-A, Master of Sacrosanctae Ordo Svmmvm Bonvm. Through these studies the man, without losing the condition of bee of the beehive, the collective conscience of it becomes simultaneously.

But after all, they would ask, what it accurately comes to be this line of Rosicrucian thought, that can involve so long preparation, normally 25 years, as already it was said? The Rosicrucian thought is not conventional academic and nor, is not imprisoned to the logical human being and also he is not subjective, because, in the truth, it functions according to a new type of objectivity. It would be difficult, practically impossible, to pass this accurate concept for a layperson, but it can be said, of a simplified form, that the Rosicrucian thought does not analyze the Creation of one mere terrestrial point-of-sight, human. The man conceives God as being a Being endowed with mind and of intention, that is, to he conceives-He it molds-The to its image, when God is not being, intention does not have mind much less, exactly for not being circumscribed to the time, as the man, who has start and end and looks for to give sensible to these colon joining them (when he makes it) for an performance line, that it aims at to a result to justify same itself, forming there the intention . The Rosicrucian thought sees the creation of a situated point of view above of this platform beginning-intention-end . E is for this reason that one that acquired this vision has the Mastery of the Life.

And the Members of the Inner Circle, what they make they? Many leave of the mundane conviviality to dedicate the works special in favor of the Great Workmanship; others goes to work - or they continue working - in the scope of the External Circle, in functions generally apparently secondary and not if disclose, of form best to be able to act together to that are if initiating All, however, have in common the objective to become the world best, with more peace, health and prosperity, projecting in the future a society with raised level of conscience more and searching in the past inspiration to make it. Dr. Harvey Spencer Lewis was a man whom it knew to make this with rare property and such proficiency that it was consecrated in authentic genius of the Mysticism. The string is very tenuous that separates to the Mysticism of Science and in this New Millennium these two sources will be perfectly unified. The work of the Master Alden as Spencer Lewis, producing the Rosicrucian Study, is without a doubt some one of the bases for this extraordinary symbiosis that will illuminate the New Age.

3 - A Brief on Rosicrucianism

WHAT IS really Rosicrucianism? Rosicrucian Orders and Fraternities currently existing on this planet are really R+C Institutions? All of them are really secret? We entered the long awaited New Era (the Third Millennium CE) experiencing a lot of contradictions inside the kernel of the modern Occultism and Rosicrucianism has affected. For details, just click here: you will access the Father CRC Archive... Several variations of Rosicrucianism was created by several esoteric people, including Tantric and Vedic versions. The image of Rosicrucianism as an ancient and traditional school of mystery has damaged by several unauthorized gurus, commercial enterprises using the name Rosicrucian, fools and a complete universe of irresponsible people using including the Net in order to construct the most fantastic and incredible Babel Tower involving Rosicrucianism. Unfortunately have not yet a serious control on the Net and all people can writes and publish dozens of pages containing the most absurd versions about all themes around the occultism. In essence, the Rosicrucianism is just a Cosmic Christic doutrine, based under the Divine Ethics, devoted to promote the continuous evolution of the human conscience.

According Max Heindel, founder of The Rosicrucian Fellowship, Christian Rosenkreutz is a real personage, not a product of mystic fiction. I agree. Also for me CRC is a real personage and his tomb is opened when is necessary. Now, his tombstone is open once again.

Remember: Our Lord Jesus Christ was educated in Egypt. Rosicrucianism is also a Light from Egypt. This Light was irradiated by Maat through Akenaten, building the roots of an Ancient School of Myster that was originated modern Rosicrucian hermetism. Is not important if Jesus Christ story is authentic or not – the important is the metaphysical message in this official story. The modern human society, the Society of Consumption, has been constructed on the Political Christian Theory, that is just the Pentagon Paradigm as the House are using it... But the real Christianity is based only in the inner message of Cosmic Christ, the incarnated Solar Logos (from Grand Central Sun). Rosicrucianism is based on Cosmic Christ laws and parameters, not only on Jesus of Nazareth official mith.

Various Rosicrucian Orders and Fraternities displaying websites today are extricately based on religious Christianity principles, just because all of them are in essence Western Organizations running under the Empire rules. When Western's esotericists has extracted from Ancient Egypt mystical values and introduced it in his Mosaic-Kabbalistic-Christian-Masonic-Magick-Rosicrucian Orders and Fraternities (at this time over 220 of these organisations exist with presence on the Web) in order to re-create significant values according the vision of each one of these occultists some transformations occurred. This "metamorphosis" including fraud on authentic Kemetic Symbols, and some recent orders and fraternities founded around 1800CE by Western's white men started initiations involving Gods and Goddesses from the Ancient Egyptian Pantheon. Various of these organisations used this formula to suck money from students, according denounces of some of them, posted in discussion groups and in Web sites.

The Rosicrucian Order, AMORC is not a Christian R+C, but an Kemetic R+C, based in metaphysical principles of the 98° Nisut of Kemet, Neferkheperura Waenra Amenhotep IV, King Akhenaten. After Akhenaten renounced the former religion, he concentrated his monotheistic belief around the sun god Aten (Aldred 262). During the beginning reign of Akhenaten, presumably during the building of Armana (1st-5th year of reign), Akhenaten started to destroy previous records of the multi-deity religion (Aldred 263). His religious foundation is strikingly similar to the foundations of today's great monotheistic religions such as Christianity and Judaism (Redford 173). One of the debated reasons for Akhenaten's sudden transfer of religions is because of the general notion that Amun priests were gaining too much power, and that he wanted absolute power over everything Note: The Egyptian King (or Pharaoh), however, was not simply a priest mediating between god and man; the monarch was himself a god. He was an aspect of the totality of power in society and in nature. Early in the fourth millennium there are already indications that the Egyptians apparently tried to preserve and protect the physical remains of the dead and to provide them for use after death with the food and furnishings that had been valuable during life. The building of elaborate tombs and gigantic pyramids was an expression of this belief in the afterlife. The mortuary arrangements of the Egyptians provide insights into Egyptian attitudes toward religion and philosophy, with the passing of time bringing even greater refinements. Pharaoh Akhenaten have extraterrestrial origin with bonds of Cosmic Masters from spiritual planet Uranus 2 and its moon, Khem, as Master Apis, Summum Bonum Amen Re, KGP, Master KMK an others. Is interesting to note that Master Alden during his incarnation as HSL has generated the physical human body for another Cosmical Master, Aum-Rah, born in this planet with the name of Ralph Maxwell Lewis.

Dr. Harvey Spencer Lewis, reorganizer of the Akhenaten's Mysteries School with a name of The Ancient and Mystical Ordo Rosae Crucis (AMORC), actually called Antiquus Mysticusque Ordo Rosae Crucis, was the introducer of Maat into the modern Rosicrucianism. Rosicrucian pamphlets from AMORC emphasizes that the complete name of the organization (Ancient and Mystical Order Rosae Crucis) in reverse order configures the word CROMAAT. It is a mystical Rosicrucian salutation using the name of the goddess of Justice and Truth. Note: Maat, or Ma'at, or Maet, in reality is an abstraction of Divine Ethics projected to the Earth to rule human actions and difused through all universes to simbolize the right path for all manifestations of animated forms, living creatures.

Spencer Lewis determined the addition of The 42 Laws of Maat as a special part of Monographs of AMORC., in order to crystallize Maat's Ethics in the mind of Rosicrucian students. Spencer Lewis knows that Maat is not a white woman. As a member of Ordo Templi Orientis (OTO), Spencer Lewis studied the Book of Thoth, the husband of Maat. The observance of Maat Rules by Rosicrucians was extended to various Orders and Fraternities, and some oh them considerate only the magick aspect of the Ancient Egyptian Rituals, including Maat and Ankh. (Note that HSL was an Initiate of the 7th Degree of OTO and he have not initiated by Aleister Crowley. Other R+C Founder on planet Earth, Master Huiracocha (Dr. Arnold Krumm-Heller), 9th Degree of OTO, initiated by Crowley, has founded Fraternitas Rosicruciana Antiqua (FRA) incorporating Christian and Gnostics principles, not only KMT principles as AMORC.)

The Sign of the Ankh, the Sacred Key for the Eternal Life, was assumed by several aspects, through various kinds of minds, but the Soul is only one and we are one under this principle. Then, all Ankh images symbolizes the same idea: the immortality. Spencer Lewis introduced Ankh's principles and teachings into the Rosicrucian studies, including initiatic rites for the Superior Degrees of his Order (Planes). Plane 4 uses Ankh for a secret ceremony but I will not write more about it here because this theme is secret, reserved for Members of the Inner Circle.

Not only Lewis but various others mystics introduced Maat into esoteric organizations. These organizations are congregation of caucasian people, involved with Occidental principles and jewish ideas about Good, including magick conceptions developed in Europe, sucking Ancient Egyptian parameters of Metaphysics. Some people (white man and white woman) uses the name of Maat but forgot that Maat is not a white goddess. Recently I have noticed in a mailing list criticism to "black appearance of Akhenaten". Note that Akhenaten was not a caucasian and Egyptian gods and goddess are not white archtypes. Note that the Ancient Egypt was a world ruled by black people.

I recommend to all Rosicrucians and sincere studios of Kemetic the complete lecture of "The Vanishing Evidence of Classical African Civilizations", by Professor Manu Ampim, available online on The Order of Maat Supreme Grand Lodge website, at <http://www.maat-order.org/>

I studied the CRC symbolism since Ancient Egypt to 1300/1600 CE and decided publish this page about Christian Rosenkreutz including texts extracted from books published by religious organizations that shows the Elder Father CRC and Rosicrucianism as a fraud. As a Catholic person I'm can't accept these versions because are not according with Jesus Christ message. If Christian Rosenkreutz is a real or an invented personage is not important. For me, his history have a mystical and occult significance that is not accessible for profanes (atheists or religious). The explanation about this theme that I recommend to all interested people is the one exist in " The Rosicrucian Archive ", by the Confraternity of the Rose Cross (CR+C), founded by Gary Lee Stewart.

According the CR+C document, the amount of historical research into the phenomenon known as Rosicrucianism has been considerable over the past decade. Any number of published works on the subject almost unanimously focus their attention upon the 17th Century European foundation of the traditional Order. These works point out that the Invisible Order was founded in Germany, several centuries earlier, by an individual known as Christian Rosenkrutz. It is said that in order to perpetuate an ancient tradition he had initiated a few brothers into the mysteries of the Rose Cross. The successors to these brothers brought to light the existence of the Order in 1614, with the publication of the first Rosicrucian manifesto Fama Fraternitatis. However, the actual foundation of the Order is believed to have taken place on the occasion of the opening of the allegorical crypt of Christian Rosenkrutz, ten years prior to the publication of Fama Fraternitatis.

Although historically the foundation of the Order was in the 17th Century Europe, there is a considerable discussion among scholars on the traditional roots of Rosicrucianism. The name Rosicrucian is derived from the Latin: 'rosae' and 'cruce' popularly translated to mean the 'rose cross'. Historically, the R+C (Rose Cross) has had both an outermost public interpretation, as well as an inner, hidden meaning, derived from less known sources. Its symbolic significance is the key to understanding the intentions and objectives of Rosicrucianism. I also encourage all studious interested in Rosicrucianism to read the document "Manifestations of the Neo-Rosicrucian Current" by Frater Melchior, FRC, available online and for free download in a Svmmvm Bonvm's eBook illustrated by me, at: <http://svmmvmbonvm.org/neor+c/>

The first Rosicrucians "took their name from a fifteenth-century visionary and magician named Christian Rosenkreutz" according some versions available on the Web. For me, Christian Rosenkreutz (CR+C) was a myth like the myth of Jesus Christ: a story with an external face, for profanes, religious people etc and an inner face, for High Initiates only. Legend has it that after a long stay in the orient, he returned to Germany to found a monastery in which he sought spiritual fulfillment through isolated meditation and prayer. Spiritual disputes with Lutheran doctrine led the early Rosicrucian societies to follow in Rosenkreutz's hermetic footsteps, developing as enclosed orders of men sharing a unique set of mystical beliefs. In the 18th century, these groups turned towards alchemy and esotericism in order to distance themselves from the religious beliefs of the majority, basing many of their ideas and images upon those drawn from the Kabbala and the Freemasons. Note that Rosicrucian is the name of a degree of Free Masonry.

According to the Encyclopaedia Britannica, the origins of Rosicrucianism are obscure. The earliest extant document that mentions the order is the Fama Fraternitatis ("Account of the Brotherhood"), first published in 1614, which may have given the movement its initial impetus. The Fama recounts the journeys of Christian Rosenkreutz, the reputed founder of Rosicrucianism, who was allegedly born in 1378 and lived for 106 years. He is now generally regarded to have been a symbolic rather than a real character, whose story provided a legendary explanation of the order's origin. According to the Fama, Rosenkreutz acquired secret wisdom on trips to Egypt, Damascus, Damcar in Arabia, and Fès in Morocco, which he subsequently imparted to three others after his return to Germany. The number of his disciples was later increased to eight, who went to different countries. On this matter is interesting to note that Sar Hyeronimus (Émile Dantinne) has written an esay on the Islamic origins of the Rosicrucianism. You can read this one in the Official Web Site of The Order of Maat, Inc., (Articles Section), at: <http://maat-order.org/crcislam.htm>

In the late 1880's, the French critic and author Joséphin Péladan agreed to meet with the occultist Stanislas de Guaïta. Guaïta was initially attracted to Péladan's somewhat popular aesthetic novel, "Le Vice suprême", desiring to speak with the author of this original work. Sharing a disdain for common religion and society, the two men decided they would try to revive Rosicrucianism as a way to propagate their ideas. After a time, they separated over differing aims; Guaïta was focused on the unorthodox elements of the society while Péladan attempted to set it apart as a Symbolist-Catholic entity of artistic truths. Thus, Péladan's group broke off to form the international Salon de la Rose + Croix, with a manifesto written to proclaim the order's somewhat occultist ideals of art, accepting works dealing directly or indirectly with "Catholicism and Mysticism, Legend, Myth, Allegory, the Dream, the Paraphrase of great poetry, and finally all Lyricism..." Péladan's aim was "to tear love out of the western soul and replace it with the love of Beauty, the love of the Idea, the love of mystery." Some artists connected with his group, whose works were found "worthy" of being exhibited in the Rose + Croix salons, ranged from Jean Delville, Fernand Khnopff, to Alexandre Séon and Alphonse Osbert.

According Hermann Gruber, the original appellation of the alleged members of the occult-cabalistic-theosophic "Rosicrucian Brotherhood", described in the pamphlet "Fama Fraternalitatis R.C." (Rosae crucis), which was circulated in MS. As early as 1610 and first appeared in print in 1614 at Cassel. To the first two additions were prefixed the tract "Allgemeine und Generalreformation der ganzen weiten Welt", a translation of Fr. Boccalini's "Dei Ragguagli di Parnasso", 1612. Beginning with the fourth edition in 1615, the third Rosicrucian rudiment, "Confessio der Fraternalitat", was added to the "Fama". According to these, the Rosicrucian brotherhood was founded in 1408 by a German nobleman, Christian Rosenkreutz (1378-1484), a former monk, who while travelling through Damascus, Jerusalem and Fez had been initiated into Arabian learning (magic), and who considered an antipapal Christianity, tinged with theosophy, his ideal of a religion. Concerned above all else that their names should appear in the Book of Life, the brothers were to consider the making of gold as unimportant-although for the true philosophers (Occultists) this was an easy matter and a parergon. They must apply themselves zealously and in the deepest secrecy to the study of Nature in her hidden forces, and to making their discoveries and inventions known to the order and profitable to the needs of humanity. And to further the object of the said order they must assemble annually at the "Edifice of the Holy Spirit", the secret head-quarters of the order, cure the sick gratuitously, and whilst each one procured himself a successor they must provide for the continuance of their order. Free from illness and pain, these "Invisibles", as they were called in the vernacular, were supposed to be yearning for the time when the church should be "purified".

For two hundred years, while the world never had the least suspicion of their existence, the brotherhood transmitted by these means the wisdom of "Father" Rosenkreutz, one hundred and twenty years after the latter's burial, until about 1604 they finally became known. The "Fama", which effected this, invited "all of the scholars and rulers of Europe" openly to favour the cause, and eventually to sue for entrance into the fraternity, to which, nevertheless, only chosen souls would be admitted. The morbid propensity of the age for esoterism, magic, and confederacies caused the "Fama" to raise a feverish excitement in men's minds, expressed in a flood of writings for and against the brotherhood, and in passionate efforts to win admission to the order, or at least to discover who were its members. All of these endeavours, even by scholars of real repute like Descartes and Leibniz, were without results. From the manifestly fabulous and impossible "History" of the brotherhood, it was apparent that it depended upon a "mystification". This mystification was directly explained by an investigation by the author, who appears unquestionable to have been the Lutheran theologian of Würtemberg, John Valentin Andrea (1586-1654). According to his own admission, Andrea composed in 1602 or 1603 the Rosicrucian book, "Chymische Hochzeit Christiani Rosenkreutz 1459", which appeared in 1616. This book, called by Andrea himself a youthful literary trifle in which he intended to ridicule the mania of the times for occult marvels (Life, p. 10), bears the closest intrinsic relation to the "Fama", which, in the light of this, is undoubtedly a later work of Andrea's or at least of one of the circle of friends inspired by him. Alchemistic occultism is mocked at in these works and in the "General-Reformation", the follies of the then untimely reformers of the world are openly ridiculed. The fantastic form of the tracts is borrowed from contemporary romances of knighthood and travel. The "Rosy Cross" was chosen for the symbol of the order because, first, the rose and cross were ancient symbols of occultism and, secondly, occur in the family arms of Andrea. It recalls Luther's motto: "Des Christen Hertz auf Rosen geht, wenn's mitten unter'm Kreuze steht" (Hossback, 121). As a result of his satirically meant but seriously accepted works, which soon gave rise to occult humbuggery (opposed by him) in new Rosicrucian raiment, Andrea openly renounced Rosicrucianism and frequently referred to it as a ridiculous comedy and folly. In spite of this, the Rosicrucian fraud, which served in many ways as a model for the anti-Masonic Taxil-Schwindel, has continued effective until the present day. In the seventeenth century Michael Maier and Robert Fludd were its champions. Psuedo-Rosicrucian societies arose, falsely claiming descent from the genuine fraternity of the "Fama". After 1750 occult Rosicrucianism was propagated by Freemasonry, where it led to endless extravagant manifestations (St. Germain, Cagliostro, Schropfer, Wollner etc.). In the system of high degrees in "Scottish" Freemasonry, especially in the Rosendruetz degree, the Rosicrucian symbols are still retained with a Masonic interpretation. Finally, since about 1866 there have existed in England and Scotland (London, Newcastle, York, Glasgow) and in the United States (Boston, Philadelphia) "colleges" of a Masonic Rosicrucian society, whose members claim to be direct descendants of the brotherhood founded in 1408. Only Master Masons are eligible for membership. According to the definition of the president of the London branch (Supreme Magus), Brother Dr. Wm. Wynn Westcott, M.B., P.Z., it is "the aim of the Society to afford mutual aid and encouragement in working out the great problems of life and in searching out the secrets of nature; to facilitate the study of philosophy founded upon the Kabbalah and the doctrines of Hermes Trismegistus, which was inculcated by the original Fratres Roseae Crucis of Germany, A.D. 1450; and to investigate the meaning and symbolism of all that now remains of the wisdom, art, and literature of the ancient world". The view which has been lately revived, especially by Katsch and Pike, that Rosicrucianism definitely or even perceptibly cooperated in the foundation of modern Freemasonry in 1717, is contradicted by well-known historical facts.

Paracelsus, a Swiss alchemist who died in 1541, is also regarded by some as the real founder of Rosicrucianism. Others, however, view 16th- and 17th-century developments as simply a revival of the order and contend that Rosicrucian doctrines not only flourished in ancient Egypt but were espoused by such outstanding philosophical and religious figures as Plato, Jesus, Philo of Alexandria, Plotinus, and others. There is, however, no reliable evidence to date the order's history earlier than the 17th century, according to bureaucratic esotericists.

But in reality the story of Rosicrucianism as a school of thought is from 18th KMT Dynasty (Illuminates of Kemet), based in this mystical principle: "The roses (personalities) have to flourish over the cross (of duality)".

4 - Introducing Maat Into Rosicrucianism

AS THE REORGANIZER of the Akhenaten's Mysteries School (Illuminates of Kemet) with a name of The Ancient and Mystical Ordo Rosae Crucis (AMORC), actually called Antiquus Mysticusque Ordo Rosae Crucis, Dr. Harvey Spencer Lewis was the introducer of the KMT Sacred Symbolism of Goddess Maat into the modern Rosicrucianism. using her logosymbol as a salutation for his Order: Cromaat.

Rosicrucians pamphlets from AMORC emphasizes that the complete nome of the organization (Ancient and Mystical Order Rosae Crucis) in reverse order configures the word CROMAAT. It is a mystical Rosicrucian salutation using the name of the goddess of Justice and Truth. Note: Maat, or Ma'at, or Maet, in reality is an abstraction of Divine Ethics projected to the Earth to rule human actions and difused through all universes to simbolize the right path for all manifestations of animated forms, living creatures.

Spencer Lewis determined the addition of The 42 Laws of Maat as a special part of Monographs of AMORC., in order to crystallize Maat's Ethics in the mind of Rosicrucian students. Spencer Lewis knows that Maat is not a white woman.

As a member of Ordo Templi Orientis (OTO), Spencer Lewis studied the Book of Thoth, the husband of Maat. The observance of Maat Rules by Rosicrucians was extended to various Orders and Fraternities, and some oh them considerate only the magick aspect of the Ancient Egyptian Rituals, including Maat and Ankh.

The Sign of the Ankh, the Sacred Key for the Eternal Life, was assumed by several aspects, through various kinds of minds, but the Soul is only one and we are one under this principle. Then, all Ankh images symbolizes the same idea: the immortality.

Spencer Lewis introduced Ankh's principles and teachings into the R(osicrucian studies, including initiatic rites for the Superior Degrees of his Order (Planes). Plane 4 uses Ankh for a secret ceremony but I will not write more about it here because this theme is secret, reserved for Members of the Inner Circle.

Not only Lewis but various others mystics introduced Maat into esoteric organizations. These organizations are congregation of caucasian people, involved with Occidental principles and jewish ideas about God, including magick conceptions developed in Europe, sucking Ancient Egyptian parameters of Metaphysics. Some people (white man and white woman) uses the name of Maat but forgot that Maat is not a white goddess. ..Recently I have noticed in a mailing list criticism to "black appearance of Akhenaten". Note that Akhenaten was not a caucasian and Egyptian gods and goddess are not white archtypes. Note that the Ancient Egypt was a world ruled by black people.

I recommend to all Rosicrucians and sincere studios of Kemetic the complete lecture of "The Vanishing Evidence of Classical African Civilizations", by Professor Manu Ampim, available online on The Order of Maat Supreme Grand Lodge website, at <http://www.maat-order.org/>

Overview on Goddess Maat

Maat is today a fundamental symbol and sacred key into Rosicrucian Metaphysics. Kemetic names of the goddess are: Maat, Mayet, Ma'at, Eye of Ra, Feather of Truth (In addition to native variations by locality or over time, there are often several possible transliterations into the Roman alphabet used for English.). Illuminates of Kemet has introduced the sacred Ankh of Maat into modern Illuminism aiming New Ordus Seclorum. Note that people known on Illuminism is The Illuminati was first seen in the 15th century by occultists proclaiming to have wisdom from a higher source. Illuminati means, "Intellectually inspired." The secret society became strong in 18th century Germany. It adopted many different grades of Freemasonry. It claimed to be a blend of philanthropy and mysticism. Goethe was a member of the Bavarian Illuminati. They placed the fear of Masons and Jews within the extreme right wing political camps. Conspiracies were spun about the forces of order, bureaucracy, and repression. People soon realized that espionage was their main focus, then the French Revolution arrived and changed the country. "The only people who mention the Illuminati anymore is the John Birch Society". This is one distortion more produced by caucasian people, suckers of KMT symbols. But the Rosicrucian Order, AMORC, has preserved the real essence of authentic Illuminism as Illuminism is known in the 18<sup>a</sup> Dynasty of Kemet. Dr. Harvey Spencer Lewis is the author of this preservation and AMORC students in the 12<sup>o</sup> Degree can understand perfectly what I'm saying here...

Egyptian goddess of Cosmic Harmony, Truth and Justice, Maat ruled the Ancient Egypt using his 42 Laws through the pharaohs' power. She was associated with Thoth, Ptah and Khnemu in the Egyptian Creation. Maat is a goddess but Maat is an abstraction, the most pure and refined principle of Ethic applied on the humanity for happiness, order and balance. How can Maat does it? Maat inspires the right persons in appropriate places in the just moment for immediate actions, mental, physical and political, in order to dissipate bad vibrations generated by dark human minds. Dr. Harvey Spencer Lewis, reorganizer of the Akhenaten's Mysteries School with a name of The Ancient and Mystical Ordo Rosae Crucis (AMORC), actually called Antiquus Mysticusque Ordo Rosae Crucis, was the introducer of Maat into the modern Rosicrucianism.

The Ankh of Maat (the Sacred Key of Eternal Life) is actually used by occidental people as a jewel or as an amulet, or such a commercial symbol (Copyrighted logos). But also authentic artists was inspired and created paintings, posters and sculptures on the theme Ankh. Some mystical orders uses Ankh as an esoteric symbol and shows it on books, monographs and in initiatic and/or ritualistic pieces. In The Order of Maat Ankh is used for healing the sick, in various harmonization processes and for communication with other planes, through the Electromagnetic Hall (currently available for all visitors on the Net). You can visit this Hall and you will see the virtual electromagnetic Ankh. But only Members of The Order of Maat know the secrets for Ankh esoteric operations in the Fourth Dimension for several purposes. If you are interested, here is the Web address:

<http://maat-order.org/maatelectromag.htm>

Maat was a goddess of the underworld, sitting in judgment over the souls of the dead in the Judgment Hall of Osiris. She was depicted as a woman with an ostrich feather on her head. The goddess was sometimes represented by the feather alone. She was closely associated with Re from the beginning and eventually became known as the 'daughter of Re'. Thoth was sometimes given as her consort. Maat operates not only the Cosmic Justice but also the Alchemical process for the transformation of the humanity on the strait path of evolution. The keyword for this process is: participation.

Maat projected his etereal body on the earth some times and king Akhenaten was one of these manifestations of the goddess in this plane. Living in Maat, for Maat and by Maat, Akhenaten transformed the religious system of Ancient Egypt, introducing the monotheist concept with the Solar Disk as a only God as a physical representation of the Real Solar Disk, the Great Central Sun. But note please: KMT in real essence is monotheist because its gods and goddesses are merely attributes (Neteru) of the Real Solar Disk! The “Akhenaten’s heresy” as it is known by orthodoxy KMT was only a political action in order to break the power of priests of several gods and goddesses in his kingdom. Wester esotericists cannot uderstad correctly the Neteru concept and created a fake polytheism for KMT. Akhenaten wrote the Hymn to the Aten, one of the most famous ancient mystical texts available. Maat promoted the alchemical transformation of the human society, beginning by transform one by one some rare adepts as Akhenaten. Through these emanations Maat projected on the modern era the fundamental principles for the construction of the New Era. Maat used some Rosicrucians for this mission and one of them was Frater Profundis XIII (Sar Alden, the reorganizer of the Akhenaten's Ancient School of Mysteries, also called Hermetic Order of Egypt, that congregated 39 illuminated persons in a secret lodge).

The pharaohs were said to derive their authority from Maat and claimed to uphold the cosmic order embodied in her. In the funerary papyri of the New Kingdom it was Maat who sat in judgment at the weighing of the heart ceremony in the Hall of the Two Truths. The heart of the deceased person was weighed against the image of Maat, often represented simply by the ostrich feather. Her only known sanctuary was at Karnak.

Today various esoteric orders and fraternities are using the name of Maat in his rituals and for initiations, but the caucasian people involved in this mystical affaire forgot that Maat is not a white woman, is not a white goddess, just because the ancient Egyptians was not white people. KMT published in the Net the Manifesto below with the 42 Laws included:

42 Admonitions of Ma'at

For 3500 years of recorded history before the advent of Christianity, the people of Kemet (Ancient Egypt) lived by a moral and ethical code that has never been surpassed. Western civilization rejected the laws of Ma'at, made abstinence from sex the touchstone by which morals would be judged and thus chose the christianization of the Mosaic Law which includes the so called, "Ten Commandments." Fortunately, most modern governments have rejected all of the so-called commandments, except for the proscriptions against murder, stealing and perjury, which were common to all civilized nations long before the Jews.

We should not accept the Ten Commandments as either god-given, or as a code by which men should govern their lives. And for good reason. Under Mosaic Law, violation of any of the Ten Commandments was punishable by death. When the Ten Commandments are compared with the principles by which the ancient Egyptians governed their lives, the laws of the Judaeo-Christian-Moslem world are barbaric and meaningless. The principle that governs the "True Kemite" is Maat--a religious principle which is more than justice, it is Divine-Justice, personified in the Angel Maat, who exemplifies the eternal laws of the universe as, Right and Truth.

In the weighing of the wrongs man does in this life against the intent of his heart, Ma'at makes a distinction between sins and transgressions. A sin is a violation of the laws of the the Creator. That is, laws pertain to the ordinances and requirements which the Creator has given for worship. This also extends to the commitment one makes to the Neters or Angels and the respect one holds for their gifts. Transgressions on the other hand, are offenses against our fellow mortals, their possessions, or the earth--or that portion of the earth on which we live. Thus, one sins against the Creator, but one transgresses against mortals.

Egyptologists have termed these principles "Negative Confessions" because they usually begin with the negative, "I have not." In the principles of Right and Truth, they are in fact affirmations of what one has not done in his life to live by Maat.

MA'AT - Right and Truth

Transgressions Against Mankind

1. I have not committed murder, neither have I bid any man to slay on my behalf;

2. I have not committed rape, neither have I forced any woman to commit fornication;

3. I have not avenged myself, nor have I burned with rage;

4. I have not caused terror, nor have I worked affliction;

5. I have caused none to feel pain, nor have I worked grief;

6. I have done neither harm nor ill, nor I have caused misery;

7. I have done no hurt to man, nor have I wrought harm to beasts;

8. I have made none to weep;

9. I have had no knowledge of evil, neither have I acted wickedly, nor have I wronged the people;

10. I have not stolen, neither have I taken that which does not belong to me, nor that which belongs to another, nor have I taken from the orchards, nor snatched the milk from the mouth of the babe;

11. I have not defrauded, neither I have added to the weight of the balance, nor have I made light the weight in the scales;

12. I have not laid waste the plowed land, nor trampled down the fields;

13. I have not driven the cattle from their pastures, nor have I deprived any of that which was rightfully theirs;

14. I have accused no man falsely, nor have I supported any false accusation;

15. I have spoken no lies, neither have I spoken falsely to the hurt of another;

16. I have never uttered fiery words, nor have I stirred up strife;

17. I have not acted guilefully, neither have I dealt deceitfully, nor spoken to deceive to the hurt another;

18. I have not spoken scornfully, nor have I set my lips in motion against any man;

19. I have not been an eavesdropper;

20. I have not stopped my ears against the words of Right and Truth;

21. I have not judged hastily, nor have I judged harshly;

22. I have committed no crime in the place of Right and Truth;

23. I have caused no wrong to be done to the servant by his master;

24. I have not been angry without cause;

25. I have not turned back water at its springtide, nor stemmed the flow of running water;

26. I have not broken the channel of a running water;

27. I have never fouled the water, nor have I polluted the land;

Sins

28. I have not cursed nor despised God, nor have I done that which God does abominate;

29. I have not vexed or angered God;

30. I have not robbed God, nor have I filched that which has been offered in the temples;

31. I have not added unto nor have I minished the offerings which are due;

32. I have not purloined the cakes of the gods;

33. I have not carried away the offerings made unto the blessed dead;

34. I have not disregarded the season for the offerings which are appointed;

35. I have not turned away the cattle set apart for sacrifice;

36. I have not thwarted the processions of the god;

37. I have not slaughtered with evil intent the cattle of the god;

Personal Transgressions

38. I have not acted guilefully nor have I acted in insolence;

39. I have not been overly proud, nor have I behaved myself with arrogance;

40. I have never magnified my condition beyond what was fitting;

41. Each day have I labored more than was required of me;

42. My name has not come forth to the boat of the Prince;

It should be obvious that the Forty-two Adonitions of Right and Truth are far more inclusive than the so-called Ten Commandments. Even when the rest of the Jewish laws are considered, they pale in the light of the KMT Law. Punishment for the Personal Transgressions was reserved for the judgment of the Gods--not in this life, but in the judgment of Maat. The punishment for sins in KMT was banishment from the community. As for the Transgressions against mortals, the punishment was exacted to fit the crime. In ancient Egypt, the death penalty was seldom used, and then only under unusual circumstances. Periods as long as 150 years went by without a single execution. Yet KMT, for the most part, was without crime. Crime rose only when immigrants brought their barbaric customs into KMT, which, because KMT was the center of the ancient world, occurred more often than the Egyptians wished.

The Kemetic solution to a rising crime rate was not to pass harsher punishments, or to make it a crime to carry a weapon. No! The solution was to eliminate the root cause of crime. In the 20th Dynasty, during the rule of Rameses IX (1121-1112 BCE), crime was so rampant that even the graves of the Pharaohs were being robbed. To combat this problem, the Pharaoh expelled 260,000 Semites from the country. This expulsion would become the Exodus of the Jews. The expulsion virtually eliminated crime in the country--while the Hebrews who were expelled, would claim that they had borrowed the gold and silver they had robbed from the graves. It is only after this so-called-exodus, that archaeologists find any evidence of massive Hebrew occupation the land of the Palestinians who had migrated to that portion of the Mediterranean coast two generations earlier. This exodus occurred a mere 20 years before Jewish tradition has Saul establishing the Jewish kingdom, not the 400 years claimed in the Bible. It was, again, the Jewish god who, according to the Bible, ordered the genocide of the Philistines, which is the Greek name for the people who called themselves Palestinians. And it is the same genocide order of the Jewish god that would be out today if it were not for the outrage of more civilized nations.

The controlled order of ancient Egypt was personified by the goddess Maat. The ancient Egyptians believed the the world was in careful balance between the forces of chaos, called isfet, and order. or maat. The word maat is often translated as "truth." Maat is usually depicted as a woman wearing a single ostrich plume on her head. This feather is the same one that was placed on a scale opposite the heart during the judgment of the dead. The heart of the deceased had to equal the feather in order for the deceased to enter the afterlife. Small, seated images of this goddess were often shown being offered to the gods by the ruling king, showing that the king was upholding the order of the world.

Shown as a jackal or a jackal-headed human, Anubis was one of Egypt's earliest funerary deities. He was the god of embalming who was thought to protect the mummy from evil forces. He also conducted the weighing of the heart that took place in the Hall of Judgment before Osiris, the lord of the dead. When a person died, his heart was believed to be weighed opposite the feather of Maat, which symbolized truth and goodness. If the heart was not heavier than the feather, the deceased could enter the afterlife. If it was heavier, the heart was eaten by a hideous monster with gaping jaws who sat by the scale on which the heart was weighed.

Originally thought of as a fertility god, Osiris soon took on the role of king of the dead. Murdered by his jealous brother Seth, Osiris was mummified and revived by his sister-wife Isis, who then bore a son, Horus. Horus was thought of as the living, ruling pharaoh and Osiris had continued to be associated with the dead king. In addition to his role as the leading funerary deity, Osiris also had associations with the growth of agricultural crops, which were thought to undergo the same type of rebirth that Osiris experienced. First a seed was buried, then it rested in the ground, then it was "resurrected" and it sprouted from the earth. Osiris is usually shown as a mummified man wearing the white crown with two plumes on either side. He carries the crook and the flail as symbols of his rule.

The son of Osiris and Isis, Horus became the ruler of Egypt after Osiris' death. In order to win the throne, Horus had to do battle against his uncle, the god Seth. Seth was defeated and was relegated to the role of ruler of the chaotic desert lands surrounding Egypt. As a divine ruler, Horus had associations with the living pharaoh. Sometimes depicted as a falcon or a man with a falcon head, Horus was also seen as a sun sky. As the child of Isis, Horus was also worshipped in the form of Harpocrates (Horus-the-child) and is often shown as a child nursing at the breast of Isis. In the Late Period images of Horus the child were placed on small plaques called "cippi," which were used to ward off evil and provide cures from illnesses and snake bites.

One of the most popular goddesses in ancient Egypt, Isis was the sister-wife of Osiris and the mother of Horus. Her role as divine mother and wife associated her closely with royal women. She is usually depicted as a woman bearing the hieroglyphic sign for "throne" on her head. Together with her sister Nephthys, she collected the pieces of her murdered husband, Osiris, and mummified them, then revived him and bore a child, Horus, with him. Osiris had been killed by his evil brother Seth in a fight over the rule of Egypt. Isis and Nephthys often appear together in funerary scenes acting out the roles of mourners and protectors of the deceased. Isis sometimes wears the horned sundisk crown also seen on the goddess Hathor.

Seth was the murderer of his brother Osiris, and later contended with Osiris' son, Horus, for the throne of Egypt. Seth lost the fight and his rule was limited to the chaotic world of Egypt's deserts, foreign lands, and the threatening seas. His consort is his sister-wife Nephthys. At some points in Egyptian history, the god Seth was reviled as a hated enemy, while at others, his popularity was raised to the point of becoming the patron deity of the Ramesside period (1292-1075 B.C.). Seth also played the beneficial role of fighting the serpent of Apophis (the enemy of the sun god Re), who tries to attack the solar bar as it crosses the sky. Seth is usually shown as man with the head of an unknown animal with a long, curved snout, tall, squared off ears, and a pointy tail.

The goddess Nephthys was the sister of Isis and the sister-wife of the god Seth. She is often shown accompanying Isis beside the mummy of Osiris in the traditional mourning position. Nephthys helped Isis gather up the pieces of Osiris after he had been dismembered by Seth. She was the protectress of the canopic jars used in mummification, and often appeared on coffins together with Isis. She normally wears the hieroglyphic signs that spell her name on her head.

The goddess Hathor was often shown as a woman wearing a crown composed of a sun disk surrounded by a pair of cow horns. Sometimes she could be shown completely in cow form, or as a woman with cow ears. Hathor had her main cult center at the site of Denderah. In the Ptolemaic period (305 B.C.-A.D. 30), an impressive temple to Hathor was built at the site. It is very well preserved and is fronted by six columns bearing the image of the goddess' head. Hathor, in the form of a cow, was revered as a mortuary goddess in the Theban area. One of her attributes is a musical instrument called a sistrum. She was also revered as the goddess of love, music, and joy.

The University of Pennsylvania Museum (UPM) participated in work at the site of Denderah, an important cemetery site spanning the Old through Middle Kingdoms (2625-1630 B.C.). Clarence Fisher excavated the site from 1915-1918, continuing the work begun by Charles Rosher and Flinders Petrie at the end of the nineteenth century. In addition to furnishing significant information on the history, culture and funerary practices of this critical transitional period in Egyptian civilization, these excavations have provide the UPM with a wealth of important artifacts, including ceramics and other funerary offerings, inscribed stelae and a variety of architectural elements from the tombs.

5 - Amorcus Master Unveiled

ONE OF MOST controversial, private and fascinating themes of the modern Rosicrucianism is the true nature of the Cosmic Masters. One knows that many of them had been people in this planet of pains and probations, but also of joys and accomplishments, the Earth. Others would be mental creations of mystics that if had crystallize (word that defines, in the Cosmic Plan, the equivalent the materialization in the Physical Plan) in the invisible dimension for the human eye; others, still, would be beings of planets that not the Earth, ascended to the condition of Masters in post-mortem (after death) it physical or transformed for this condition by alchemic-quantic processes that are of the knowledge only of some high initiates, really graduated the study deepened of this subtle one and reserved part of metaphysics where the subjectivity if becomes an almost scientific form of will deal with certain facts, which could not be boarded only through the faith, as in the religions, or simply for the orthodox philosophy or science. The theme that will be treated in this superficial article, opened how many has access the Internet, therefore accessible for profanes ones, involves one of the biggest taboos of the Rosicrucianism, the Amorcus, whose pictorial representation, according to my personal artistic vision, is in the painting that illustrates its eBook, written by me and that it is displayed in my Art Gallery, with the heading of "Amorcus Universalis" (to see "Amorcus Universalis" jump please to Frater Velado's Art Gallery, at: <http://macarlo.com/novaera/galleryvel.htm> then clickthe link ENTER THE GALLERY.

It becomes necessary, in this point, the insertion of a small preamble to the Amorcus subject , in which one will be to the implied acceptance and the compulsory rejection of certain facts in the mystical area. Generally, people accept as part of the reality those affirmations that are presented toall since his infancy, as example, can themselves be cited Adam and Eve, personages of the Jewish alegory on the creation of the Universe. Nowadays already it is proven, scientifically, that the first human couple was black and that lived in Africa, cradle of the humanity, where the melanin in the skin is part of the natural system of protection against certain solar effect very accented in that region of the globe. However, practically all the Christian occidental civilization person piously continues believing the Biblical version for the origin of the humanity; and practically all the occidental esotericists accept without pleas the metaphysical constructions presented in the Kabbalah. The ancient and modern occidental esoterism is based in the Jewish beliefs, the history of the Jewish people (that it is the Bible), and incorporates some superficial interpretations of the ancient Kemetic religion (the Egyptian pantheon of deities) and diverse principles extracted from Buddhism. Of this mixture of bedding, reflections, theses and dogmas the esoteric and initiatory orders and fraternities actually existing in the Occident was made with this mix, including the Rosicrucian organizations. The Bible has been the repository of the esoteric recital occidental person, in almost all the aspects. It is seen, as example, the case of the crystallization of number 7 as very special mystical symbol: it is written in the Bible that God created the Universe through 7 days; the 7, then, passed to be had, to be consecrated and to be proclaimed as essentially esoteric, symbol of sacred content, endowed with indescribable properties magick-theurgical (if you I will be interested in the misterious properties of the number 777 I invite you to click here: <http://svmmvmbonvm.org/spencerlewis/sanctumcel777.htm> to have access the page on the Celestial Sanctum (Cathedral of Soul) created by Dr. Harvey Spencer Lewis, in which this subject is boarded). Practically nobody argues this, questions or contests. Why? Because since small the people they listen to these affirmations. It is had there of that it consists the implied acceptance of the affirmations. Already the compulsory rejection consists of the automatic plea of that it seems to be strange. Thus, if somebody to say that have a vision of Our Lady or that "canalized" a message from Ashtar Sheram, or if somebody, presenting itself as paranormal, to take off gold coins of the beard, or, as medium, to receive and to give consultations with the spirit of Doctor X, carrying through operations with scalpel, much few will find odd, therefore this everything is part of the daily rotine for all people. However, if somebody to affirm that was contacted by an Amorcus - help me, God! - he could be ridicularized, labeled as crazy or be contested as defrauding the mystical reality ("mystical reality "? I will have read right what I myself I wrote? Lord, mercy!!: what it will be, accurately, the mystical reality?! ). Why? Because this name, Amorcus, forces to remember the Rosicrucian Order AMORC and all finds that this sounds strange. "An Amorcus! As this entity could exist, also preceding the physical existence of the AMORC in modernity! Ah, not, this is excessively " - would say the typical esoteric bureaucrat people, that personage that if leans over with its pairs on old books in vain attempt to assimilate something reading lines, when the teachings are in the space between these lines, that he simply cannot see, mainly due to petulance of that are inflated. Made this preamble, it is moment to enter directly in the subject of this modest essay.

Amorcus is a very special Cosmic Master solely accessible to the high initiated of the Rosicrucian Order and that not be invoked by anyone, including these graduated Rosicrucians. Amorcus, however, has the power to always convoke any one of these Members of the Inner Circle for a mission, appearing before them involved in a mystical white Light extremely shining , that forms an oval figure. Until where I am authorized to in general to express revelations in this particular one before the public, I can say that Amorcus is a Multimental Master, a type of Being Cosmic that few mystics know. He is an entity immortal, self-conscious, formed by the congregation in All-Are-One of the 39 immortal minds of 39 Illuminati, the ones that had been Members, in Ancient Egypt, of "The Illuminated", secret mystical school established pharaoh Akhenaten and that he consisted in the first nucleus of mystics with a line of thought that can be defined as Rosicrucian , even so at that time did not exist, still, this literal denomination for a mystical group. Amorcus is the Instructor who brings for modernity the Light of Ancient Egypt. Amorcus was the special Instructor of Dr. Harvey Spencer Lewis on many esoteric facts that had resulted in the organization of the Rosicrucian Order AMORC. However, only few mystics if would dare to approach this subject. The proper Dr. Spencer Lewis preferred not to go deep itself this subject very before profane people e, mainly, before the mediocre bureaucrats of the esotericism at this epoch, with his mystical Licenses, Authorization Letters and an extensive universe of documents manuscript or printed and that served, according to them, to certify the authenticity of any order, fraternity or esoteric school that came to be established demanding roots on this vacant and subjective word: Tradition. Dr. Spencer Lewis, pressured for this bureaucrats, criticized and contested for envious, that they could not support the success of the Organization that it constructs, answered, certain time, before a question on that transmits it the origins of the AMORC: "... was the Amorcus". Dr. Spencer Lewis wise person who when saying the truth this would be interpreted as trick and was thus that it said e to it, at the same time, occulted it for the idiots, in a skillful action of only two words. Obviously his enemies had used them against he, mentioning this reply to it in some writings, all they absolutely imbeciles when seen through the mystical focus or same if read by somebody intelligent thing. It is important to remember here that the esotericism, in Occident, always was a hobby - and only this - for thousands of bored people desirous of personal affirmation.

As it was said here, the Amorcus is a Cosmic Master Instructor, but few persons can speak about his essence, therefore the complete study of his nature, his cosmic mission and the interaction of minds illuminated in his All-Are-One, forming the Inductive Unit, is substance reserved for who entered the Internal Sphere of the Rosicrucian Order. However, it is necessary to say that Amorcus is only one eventual referential name, not an absolute denomination, and that this Master although to be always the same and of if revealing as appearance always in the same way - involved in Light - he can present with some types of content and some forms of expression, as the circumstances, the level of harmonization and the necessities of understanding so that everything results in definitive mystical event. As example, I can say to you All that was this Master who appeared before Max Heindel, instructing he on the true mystical nature of the Cosmos - and in the occasion this Cosmic Master transmitted some on knowledge from Ancient Egypt, that the Founder of the The Rosicrucian Fellowship included in his revelations. Here it is because you go to find references the Horus, for example, in the mystical workmanship of an essentially Christian Rosicrucian philosopher based on the Bible as Max Heindel. In his text, Max Heindel relates to this Instructor as "a stranger being of the Superior Plane". He was also this Master Instructor, to who the Dr. Spencer Lewis if related as Amorcus, the person who orientates of some important mystics of the Golden Dawn and of other Rosicrucian schools of illumination for the soul.

Finally, I want to unveil for you All, in the Portal of this New Mystical Age where we entered with the dawn of the Third Christian Millennium, that the construction of this Multimental Master Instructor was a project carefully developed by Akhenaten and his disciples in the School of Mysteries "The Illuminated". When Akhenaten decided performs the transition for the Cosmic Plan through the exercise of the will, in a conscientious ritualistic act, assuming in determined chamber of the temple a corporal position that cannot here be described and pronouncing three secret mystical words solely known by high initiates, it was, in the truth, giving beginning to the existence of the Cosmic Master Instructor who would go to take the Light of Eternal Ancient Egypt to the modern age - this exactly Master Instructor to which Dr. Spencer Lewis related as Amorcus and that thus it reported to be known by the Members of the Inner Circle of the Rosicrucian Order. Akhenaten, author of the famous Hymn to the Aten (Sun), had traces of black influence, what it proves the mystical superiority of the black race, not as form of comparison with other races, but as form of affirmation of a reality. All the 39 Members of the School of Akhenaten had these same black racial characteristics, that also were presented by Akhenaten's wife Nefertiti, whose true appearance had been adulterated by white people who commits barratry, occidental interested in "to whiten" an essentially black mystical culture in order to take possession of its symbols, esoteric values and entities, as our accompanying Professor Doctor Manu Ampim was displayed skillfully, in a series of illustrated articles that the Order of Maat keeps published in the site of its Supreme Grand Lodge, at <http://www.maat-order.org/> . In my painting that illustrates my eBook "Amorcus", published by Ordo Svmmvm Bonvm, available online and for download from "Biblioteca Digital OS+B", at: <http://svmmvmbonvm.org/livrariaos+b/> you can see Akhenaten in his last meditation; if you clicks in this picture - after its image having completely been loaded - you he will see the final moment of Akhenaten in this Plane, the instant where he entered the Solar Vital Essence. Of course, these pictures are a personal artistic conception. In the picture, I tried to portray the "Metamorphosis of Akhenaten", the vision macro of inserted it in the achievement of this intention, in the Temple, with the mystical forces of the Sacred Fire acting directly on his physical and ethereal bodies, during his last meditation. These pictures are displayed in the Frater Velado's Art Gallery , that I created after to have received from Dr. Harvey Spencer Lewis a mystical palette to which I gave the name of "Veritas Vincit", during a special Initiation in my cell of hermit, condition where I come living since 1995 to give fulfillment to the Rosicrucian mission of that I was charged by Apis Master. I invite you to visit the web site "Veritas Vincit" (only in English language) dedicated to Dr. Spencer Lewis where you will found a lot of historical photos of HSL and some articles written by the honourable and venerable Master Alden: <http://www.svmmvmbonvm.org/spencerlewis/>

CONCLUSION

Dr. Harvey Spencer Lewis, Ph.D, FRC, has really improved the Rosicrucianism aiming a New Mental Era, using the mystical concepts of Illuminates of Kemet under King Akhenaten's authority, in the 18<sup>a</sup> Dynasty of Kemet. This great workmanship has materialized on Western esotericism as the foundation and development of the physical R+C Organization known as The Rosicrucian Order, AMORC. This is the most magnificent and monumental esoteric workmanship performed on the Modernity. AMORC is today the most important Rosicrucian Order on this planet, with around 260,000 members, present in all civilized countries. The success of AMORC is the proof that its foundation was conducted directly by Cosmic Masters.

-----
BIBLIOGRAPHY: eBooks, essays and articles written by Frater Velado, published by The Order of Maat, Inc., Sacrosanctae Ordo Svmmvm Bonvm and Illuminates of Kemet between 1995 and 2006CE.

-----
NOTES:

1 - A.M.O.R.C. continues the ancient Rosicrucian Tradition. In 1934 several esoteric organizations assembled, belonging to the FUDOESI: the Fédération Universelle Des Ordres Et Sociétés Initiatiques. In a statement they have acknowledged that A.M.O.R.C. is the sole keeper of the true Tradition and principles of the Rosicrucians. The Superior Degrees of A.M.O.R.C. introduces the student in the Inner Circle of the Rosicrucian Order as an Adept, after 25 years of continuous studies. The Monographs was wrote by H. Spencer Lewis (Master Alden). His son, Ralph M. Lewis, organized the Planes. To access A.M.O.R.C. now point your browser at: <http://www.amorc.org>

(*) Illuminatus Frater Vicente Velado, 7Ph.D., 65 years old on 2006CE, is Abbot of Ordo Svmmvm Bonvm for the Third World and Lay Brother of the True, Eternal and Invisible Rosicrucian Order. Dirigent of Illuminates of Kemet, Velado was instructed, on 1995CE, by Cosmic Masters of Great White Brotherhood Lodge (G'.W'.B'.L'.) in order to construct the Rosicrucian Web Interface for the New Mental Era according the metaphysical concept of Novus Ordo Seclorum. Philoshopher, experimental scientist, painter and musician, Velado is author of 350 books, monographs, essays and articles on Metaphysics. During his illumination process Velado was Benedictine hermit during just eight years, in the St. Michael Archangel Hermitage, in Niteroi city, Rio de Janeiro state, Brazil, South America. During three decades he studied by the Old Fashionet Method of The Rosicrucian Order, AMORC, through the Grand Lodge for Portuguese Language (GLP). An eBook with the official velado's bio is available in Biblioteca Digital OS+B, in: <http://svmmvmbonvm.org/livrariaos+b/> The official Velado's web site is Prophet Jehosu at: <http://svmmvmbonvm.org/jehosu/> Velado's Art Gallery Digital-Matrix R+C is running at: <http://digital-matrix.org/> "Frater Velado's Rosicrucian Stuff" is available at: <http://svmmvmbonvm.org/fratervelado/>

Visit the Brazilian Official Wb Site of Illuminates of Kemet.
There are a lot of Public Monographs dor the New Mental Era:
http://svmmvmbonvm.org/aum\_muh.html